PRESS RELEASE

Vassiliko supports the program “I cook, and I offer” By Sophia Foundation for Children

As a socially responsible company, Vassiliko Cement Works supports the program “I cook, and I offer” by Sophia Foundation for Children in order to fully cover the feeding of Choirokitia Elementary School children; the school kitchen construction in the past was funded by the Company.

Within its annual strategic plan, part of its Corporate Social Responsibility Policy and Sustainable Development policy, Vassiliko Cement Works made its contribution by sponsoring this specific program of the Foundation, fully equipping the kitchen where unemployed mothers of school pupils work on voluntary basis. It also secured all materials needed to prepare meals for all children throughout the school year.

Sophia Foundation for Children was established in 2008 by a group of volunteers aiming at combating child poverty and the program ‘I cook, I offer’ continues for a seventh consecutive year. The program is already running in 16 all-day elementary schools and some kindergarten of Cyprus.

The continued cooperation between the Company and various foundations and non-profit organizations aims at creating an integrated management and resolution plan addressing various social issues, aimed at upgrading communities and at supporting vulnerable groups.
