Vassiliko Cement Works was awarded the 1st International Award in the Use of Alternative Fuels, at the International Global CemFuels 2018 Conference

Vassiliko Cement Works was honored with the 1st Award for an innovative project of alternative fuels management - Outstanding Alternative Fuel Project, together with its Dutch associates of N+P. Moreover, the company ranked 2nd in the category of companies that use alternative fuels - Global Alternative Fuels Using Company of the Year.

The annual Global CemFuels Awards, showcasing the best projects and the best equipment/alternative fuels technologies in the European and Global cement industry, were granted in the context of the Global CemFuels 2018 Conference, held on February 20, in Germany. In the respective voting, Vassiliko Cement Works ranked first in the category Outstanding Alternative Fuel Project and second in the category Global Alternative Fuels Using Company of the Year.

The 1st category award was delivered to the Production Manager, Dr Iakovos Skourides, who presented the following subject during the conference: "Industrial trials of subcoal co-grinding and utilization in a 6000 tpd precalciner kiln".

This awarding for such a big and innovative project constitutes an important recognition of the Company's efforts aimed at optimizing the production process, with the use of alternative fuels and innovative applications, as regards the supply of alternative fuels.

The Company's long terms policy for sustainable development includes the technological growth aimed at preserving the natural resources and at planning new strategies for energy use.
