PRESS RELEASE

Vassiliko Cement Works: Honorary Distinction at the 4th Competition of Corporate Social Responsibility in the sector of volunteerism for the year 2018

On the occasion of the International Volunteers Day, on December 3, 2018, the statutory annual reception was held at the Presidential Palace offered by the presidential couple in the honor of volunteers, together with the Pan Cyprian Volunteerism Coordinative Council.

At the event, honorary distinctions were granted to three companies that stood out at the 4th Corporate Social Responsibility competition, in the sector of volunteerism. Vassiliko Cement Works was one of the awarded companies; the Deputy General Manager, Mr. Stelios Sycopetrides received this honorary distinction.

The competition dealt with best practices and actions developed by companies in cooperation with voluntary, non-governmental and non-profit organizations, contributing to the mitigation of problems faced by the community.

The awarded companies were evaluated by a special committee, consisting of representatives from the General Directorate of European Programs of Coordination and Development of the Ministry of Labour, Welfare and Social Insurance, CCCI (Cyprus Chamber of Commerce and Industry), OEB (Cyprus Employers and Industrialists Federation), the Cypriot Network of Corporate Social Responsibility and the Pan Cyprian Volunteerism Coordinative Council (PVCC).

Vassiliko Cement Works supports volunteerism in practice, through actions and forms of cooperation with volunteering and non-profit organizations with the ultimate purpose of improving the quality of life, coping with social issues and needs and disseminating the spirit of volunteerism.
